Activity

Snowboarding

Went for a short tour near bacon rind, next pulloff to the south, toured up the burned out hill right across the street. It was real windy leaving my vehicle. Some notable whoomping, and cracks forming 30 ft around me. I probably won't be riding down there for a bit, the low angle stuff I like is too thin. Real thin down there with only about 40-60cm on the ground. Got a CT1 SC Q2 breaking about middle of snowpack, ectn 2, and ectp24.
